DETAILED ACTIONClaim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

2. Claims 1, 3, 4, 5, 7 and 8 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Foster.

Foster teaches a financial transaction system such that Applicants' step of providing a secured network that stores consumer data and approved vendor information, Applicants' step of receiving transaction information at the secured network, and Applicants' step of processing the transaction information to determine whether the transaction information conforms with the stored consumer data and approved vendor information reads on column 8, lines 19 – 28; and Applicants' step of delivering the stored consumer data to the vendor if the transaction information is determined to conform with the stored consumer data and approved vendor information reads on the message to the merchant, from the system, of the cardholder's shipping address, column 8, lines 47 - 50.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claims 2 and 6 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Foster in view of Srinivasan.

Although Foster does not specifically disclose the use of a VPN, Srinivasan teaches a method of performing electronic transactions wherein both the merchant and the buyer are registered, information of the merchant and buyer are kept in a database, upon the buyer making a purchase on-line, the merchant is given access to the buyer's information in the database and a virtual private network (VPN) is used to transmit transaction information. Therefore, it is considered that it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to modify the system of Foster to utilize a virtual private network as VPN is known to provide greater security when performing transactions.

Conclusion

5. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Nambiar et al, Hoffman et al, Racov, Singhal and Allen each disclose a method/system for performing on-line transactions.
